ARCTIC SCENES NEAR HOME. A Boston dispatch to the Chicago Tri-bunc, Monday last, gave the following description of the scene presented at that description of the scene presented at that lime in Cape Cod Bay:

Never betore, within the memory of any inhabitants along the Cape coast, has ice formed in the Bay to such an extent as at the present time. At Provincetown the harbor is closed up entirely, and a vast field of ice fills the Bay between Wood End and the southern part of the Monument in Sandwich, 21 miles across, and extends clear up to Brewster and Orleans extends clear up to Brewster and Orleans, a distance of 30 miles from the water line. The sight is a strange one. Where always before the eye has seen the blue waves of Ocean tess is now a plain of snow, while the ice is only broken here snow, while the ice is only broken here and there by vessels wrapped and well nigh hidden in the cold embrace of the new element, and high, jagged piles of ice throw up by the action of the wind and tide. The scene is dreary and desolate, but it affords no hint of the awful peril which threatens the lives of 150 or more determined upon as fest traprisenced upon more fishermen, as fast imprisoned upon their vessels as if bound with chains behind bolts and bars. Here twenty-eight vessels, varying in size from 500 to 200 tons, held immovable. Most of them are carrying from ten to fifteen men, and provisons for a three or four days' cruise, and they have already been bound in nearly that time. Food and water are fast giving out. Aid cannot leach them, nor can they in many instances reach it. A special dispatch to the Daily Advertiser from Provincetown says that the only change in the situation is for the worse, owing to the giving out of provisions. The wind blows with relentless violence, and with hourly-increasing coldness. All the indications are that to-morrow will be the coldest day in the sweep of this terri-ble wave of frost. Should the grip of ice hold on, the men on many of the schooners will be taken off only for burial. To-morrow, if the cold continues, all will probably take the risk of saving their lives by a five or ten mile walk over ice-hum-mocks and air-holes. Ice cakes, piled upon one another to the height of many feet, with here and there wide open stretches of blue sea intervening, forbid any attempt to help them from the shore Beyond question there are ten or twelve schooners on which there is no coal, no water, and perhaps not twenty four hours food. Some of the men on the icc-locked schooners succeeded to day in reaching the shore. A few returned with wha provisions they could carry to succor the forlorn hope. The passage occupied hours, and was attended with imminent peril. Several times did one or the other fall into the interest of the passage occupied hours. the jey deep and was rescued by his companions. The majority departed for their homes, leaving their vessels to their fate. The Gallatia arrived to day but can do nothing To-morrow Captain Snow will try to reach the southernmost schooner with dories, and carry provisions and water, but the chances are that the effort will be in vain.

THE APAMS HOUSE, SO POPULAR before its destruction at the great fire of 1871, has been rebuilt, and is now open to the public. It is newly furnished in a substantial and comfortable manner, but without the ginger-bread ornamentation, which is so avpensive in a hotel, and so useless to to form the frame of one man—part coming in with a click; seizing a mallet, he walked up to the clock and struck one blow. This done, he returned to the pile and fell to pieces again. When 2 o'clock came, two arose and did likewise; and at the hours of noon and midnight the entire head sprang up, marched up to the gong and struck, one after the other, making twelve in all: then returning fell to pieces twelve in all; then returning, fell to pieces

THE London Standard describes new cannon now being manufactured by the British Government, which is to weigh eighty-one tons, be twentyfour feet long, with a bore sixteen inches in diameter and carrying a ball of 1,600 pounds. The charge of this little toy will be three hundred pounds of powder, and its range seven miles. This will be the largest gun ever made nest, honest thought;" that it may or attempted to be made, and yet the Standard thinks it highly probable that much larger ones will be made within a few years.

THE temperance crusade in Ohio seems to have given place to the spelling school mania, which from present is an old, old story to us all. Nor is the furor confined to the sterner sex. The women have suspended their crusading efforts and are giving vent to the irrepressible enthusiasm of their emotional natures in this new channel. As Ohio seems to be the headquarters of modern sensation, perhaps this spellingschool movement is destined to sweep the country, and be the means of bringing the American people to a closer acquaintance with the orthographical mysteries of the English language than many of them have yet enjoyed.

NEW YORK, February 23 .- In the Tilton Beecher case this morning, the cross examination of Mrs. Moulton was resumed. She remembered bringing Mrs. Woodhull to her house three times; went to Mrs. Woodhull's once with Tilton; didn't remember the time of day; she had given the court all she knew of her visits. Her conversa-tion with Tilton was in August, when Moulton was about to make his statement to the committee; Tilton spoke angrily to Moulton about not making his statement before the committee; witness said she might have called Tilton a villain on that occasion; witness met Mrs. Dennis at Newport in 1873 and 1874; didn't tell her that Beecher was an innocent man.

Mr. Fullerton began the re-direct examination. The last time the witness saw Mrs. Woodhull she came to the witness' house and asked Frank for assistance in raising money. This was after the publication of the story. When witness kissed Beecher, it was because of sorrow at the anguish he exhibited. She feared she would never see him again, because she believed he would commit suicid . Witness testified to several interviews at her house between the parties to this case; she advised Moulton's short statement, and New Advertisements. Beecher said in the interview that he considered it honorable. Recess.

Examination then began. Witness said she was sure she told her husband about kissing Beecher on the night it appened. Mrs. Moulton then retired Evarts recalled Mrs. Kate Cary, Beach protesting that she was not his witness. Springfield, Feb. 23.—It is astonishing how these reformers do talk. If the country can be saved by debate, the millenium is near at hand. The floodgates of "gas" are let loose early in the morning, and shut down only when the House adjourns; and nine-tenths of the talking is done by the Democrats Synopsis of its Features and Independents. The Republicans sit serency by, and from day to day quietly watch the tidal wave of costly talk, as it rolls ceaselessly on. The Report of the Louisiana Com- simplest questions can only be passed upon after half a dozen reformers have made their little speech, and four times out of five the talk is all on the side of the question which, from the first, was TILTON-BEECHER REDIVIVUS known to be largely in the majority. "Boss" Hesing was a conspicuous figure on the floor of the House to-day, talking confidentially to members in LEGISLATIVE DO-NOTHINGS the interest of the Chicago charter bill. departments. and reform institutions sufficient to make good the extravagant expenses of this session of the Assembly, and other leaks in the interest of the new party, and thereby keep the aggregate down so far that the "stumpers" can go before the people with the total footings for campaign purposes. When the question of charities is mentioned, sharp words follow, hence some acrimoniou talk was indulged in this morning, by Senators Murphey, Parish 'and Casey, on a bill reported from the Committee on Appropriations, to supply a deficiency incurred in the erection of the building for the blind. The Scuate indefinitely postponed the bill providing for taking the State ceusus next year. The wisdom of this action may well be doubted. The importance of the information does not seem to be appreciated by our legislators. The United States census report is next to worthless as a means of determining the increase and prosperity of any one single State.

A CARD.

John F. Ricketts, Soliciting Agent for the above named county and township.

The French Spy was played to a very fair house last night, and the characters in the play were put upon the stage in a truly lifelike manner, and the tableaux were produced with thrilling effect. Miss Golden in the three characters personated by her in the different acts, showed a versatility of talent that is exceedingly rare, and which stamps her as one of the greatest actresses of the age. Mr. P. J. Wade, as l'ony Bavard, was immense, and Mr. Golden in the dual characters of Mohamed and Achmet Bey, did fine acting. The other parts were also well sustained, and as a whole the play was exceedingly well done.

This evening the thrilling play, "Nick of the Woods," will be presented, with Mr. Martin Golden in the title role, and Miss Bella Golden as "Telie Doe, the Renegade Daughter." The piece is new here, and is in the highest degree exciopportunity to see Miss Golden, our people should not fail to embrace it.

Runaway. - Yesterday afternoon team belonging to Dr. Hostetler took fright and tore loose from its hitching place, at a farm house cast of the city, and after tunning about a quarter of a mile and smashing the buggy up badly, they brought up in front of a big stakeand-rider fence. The horsos were thus conductive for re-election to the office of stopped, and a countryman can out and secured them. On examination it was found that part of the buggy and its contents had been distributed along the road for a quarter of a mile. The de molished vehicle can not be repaired for Destitution in Kansas.—The heavy affliction that has fallen upon the people of Kansas, in the shape of the grasshopper invasion, is of world-wide notoriety. The cry of the suffering people has reached our cars by Mr. James O'Kane, a farmer from Phillips county, Kansas, who was fully identified with them in anthorized with papers, from Right Rev. his seal. It may be said that the people are in want of everything in the line of food and clothing, and especially of seed tor spring planting.

Mr. O'Kane commends this appeal to the Catholic people, and hopes that it Illinois Central road, (both companies will not go unnoticed. SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO ELDER J. W. TYLER.

We are very sorry to learn that Elder John W. Tyler, of this city, sustained a very serious injury yesterday, in the hearty. form of a broken bone. The accident happened at his farm, about 5 miles east of town, on yesterday morning. It seems that when in the act of opening a gate he by some means made a misstep and fell, breaking the thigh bone of his right leg near its connection with the pelvis. He was taken up and carried into the house on his place, where he remained for several hours. As soon as he was sufficiently recovered from the shock occasioned by his fall, he was brought to his home in this city, where he was attended by skillful surgeons, and the fractured bone was set. Elder Tyler is sixty-seven years of age and it cannot be expected that the bone will unite as readily and quickly as in the case of a younger person, but notwithstanding his advanced age, his physicians are of the opinion that the bone will knit, though the process will be slow, and they hardly dare hope that the patient will ever be entirely free from the effects of the accident. Mr. Tyler is one of our most highly

Almost an Accident .- On last night there came near being a serious accident ting and thrilling. As this is the last on the Illinois Midland Railway. It seems that the conductor of a freight train which left Maroa early in the event ing to come south, left word for another train, which was expected along soon, to wait there till the first named train should have time to get well out of the way. This order was not given to the conductor of the other train, and it came on at a much greater rate of speed than that of the forward one, and overhauled it about two miles north of the city.-The conductor of the leading train saw the other coming down upon him and waived his lantern to bring it to a halt, but as there was a thick fog the engineer of the rear train failed to see the signal, and was bearing down upon the other at full speed. The whistle of the forward engine was then blown for the other train to "down breaks," and by almost superhuman effort on the part of the brakemen, the cars were brought to a halt when within about six feet of the forward train. Several passengers were in the caboose of the imperiled train, and one, (a commercial traveler), jumped their sufferings, and who comes fully from the window of the car, but sustained no injury beyond being well plastered O. The defendant seemed to be a man of nore than ordinary intelligence, and told such a straight story that it imessed all who heard it as being the ruth. The complaining witness, on the ontrary, gave such a mixed lot of evidence that it was almost incredible.— The fact of the whole matter was that Wagner was in a state of beastly intoxication, and knew but little of what had been going on during the night. Officer Tucker swore that he had found no money on the person of the defendant. This concluded the evidence in the case, and Justice Hughes, after carefully weighing all the testimony, said that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the defendant, and he was therefore discharg-A New Enterprise.-Mr. John Gar-
